Maurice Brocco and Alf Goullet, his Maurice Brocco and Alf Goullet, his partner, did most to excite the thousands. They sped along at their best almost all night and had their opponents staggering from their speedy pace. After Eddie Madden had won the first official sprint following a gruelling contest with Charles Osterritter and Reggie Menamara had beaten William Hanley by a few inches in the second sprint Brocco shot out of the middle of the pack and before his opponents realized it he was nearly a quarter of a lap in front. He increased this a few yards in the next few rounds of the saucer, and then Goullet came with his first relief and gained half a dozen more yards.

To the crowd which was standing and To the crowd which was standing and faundering appliause on them McNamara came out on the track, relieved Eddle Madden and set sail for the leaders. He rode as he seldom has before and amid the wildest kind of excitement gradually cut down the leaders. While this wild chase was on the third official sprint ended with Goullet the winner, Rutt second and Belloni third. When McNamara went past Goullet he remained in front to win the fourth aprint. Van Kempen was second and Cuburn third.

Five Track Meets Are Arranged by Princeton

Tigers Will Meet Yale in New Haven May 6.

An Eyelash Finish.

In the fifth heat Van Havel and Kemper attempted to steal away, but Goullet and McNamara were too much for them and their spurt was short lived. Belloni won the sprint, with Rutt second and Girardingo third. It was the c.csest finish of the night, Belloni winning by only an inch or two. Van Hevel and Van Kempen fought out the finish of the sixth event. They started to race two laps from home and rods their mightiest to the end. In the ass fifty yards Van Hevel sped around van Kempen and won by a tengta. McNemara was third and Coburn fourth.

The seventh sprint was good but not as exciting as the former ones. It went to Lands, with De Ruyter second and Osterritter third and Madden fourth.

Van Hevel added to his big score in the eighth heat when he beat McNemara. Coburn was third and Van Kempen fourth.

Goullet startled the crowd in the ninth.

Courle startled the crowd in the ninth heat by coming from far in the rear in the last lap and going around his field and winning eased up by two lengths.

De Ruyter was second and Belloni third victory of the night seasion when he took compand at the beginning of the final often and the beginning of the season and Coburn third and Lawrence fourth.

Sporting Contest as Tea Dance Substitute

Special Despatch to Tug Nuw York Herath.

ASTON, Pa., Dec. 5,—The Lafayette College faculty wants a real American red blooded sporting contest substituted for 4 tea dance at this season's junior week festivities in February, it became known here to-night.

"The faculty believes there is too much dancing during junior week," one of the faculty declared. "We would like to see a real sporting contest, like a basketball game, take the place of one of the tea dances. If the younger generation of to-day cares for nothing but dances then the world is becoming lopsided."

TIPPITY WITCHET IS FAST IN SPRINT

Distance Traveller Wins Five Frenchman Proves Himself and a Half Furlong Race at New Orleans.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 5 .- Tippity Witchet, known and loved by local racegoers as a distance traveller, showed that his class enabled him to sprint when he accounted for the Fairfield Handicap over the five and a half furlong distance at Jefferson Park to-day. It was the veteran's first appearance of the season. There was considerable doubt the season. There was considerable doubt regarding his fitness, and Rapid Day, a Kentucky sprinter, was assigned the Kentucky sprinter, was assigned the post of favoritism.

Rapid Day indulged Knot Grass in the early lead and went to the front at the head of the stretch. Morris, after getting Tippity Witchet away well, had permitted him to settle on his stride and called only when straightened away for home. Tippity responded, and in the final sixteenth was being eased up at the end to win by two lengths. Rapid Day saved the place from the faint hearted Knot Grass. Bill McCloy, San Diego and the bad post acting Monastery, the only other starters, followed.

The good cendition of the track surprised a large crowd, whose numbers were augmented by many new arrivals from New York and the middle West. A well defined path along the inner rail was located by Thimble when she took the fourth, a one mile event, from Nedday.

ROGER CONTI LEADS IN BALKLINE TILT

Marvel in Exhibition With Champion Schaefer.

By THOMAS J. GALLAGHER.

Roger Conti, the twenty-year-old himself a marvel yesterday when he competed against Jacob Schaefer, cham-pion of the world at 18.2 balkline, at Maurice Daly's. He won the first block Maurice Daly's. He won the first bleck of 400 by 163 points, and in the evening session was beaten 8 points. In the first session, which opened a four days' contest in blocks of 400 points, he finished with a run of 283. In the evening his second inning yielded 226, a freeze, which he attempted to overcome by a short two cushion bank with heavy twist, terminating ft.

terminating it.

At the end of the third inning at night Schaefer had only 14- points. In the next five innings he made 82, 65, 24, 76 and 140. A failure to get the balls out of balk in his seventh inning gave Conti an opportunity to run 77. When he needed eight to win, a "roll off" caused the balls to align about the middle of the head rail. He essayed to carom by playing on the yed ball, the furthest away. The cue ball did not quite return to the second object, but it left an alignment for Schaefer.

The latter, who had a total of 260, played championship billiards to win.

The latter, who had a total of 260, played championship billiards to win Playing a combination shot on which the white ball kissed the red into the left head corner and the cue ball was sent down to the foot and back to eatch the red in the corner, he scored a point that aroused intense enthusiasm. Then he complied 139 points, with the cue ball at all times at the head end of the table.

"This game is not better than what we see at the Majestic." Before Conti had completed his run the same gentleman said to his companion: "You have never before seen such billiards as this, have you?" The answer was: "I never have. It is wonderful."

Big Fish at the Chelera Banks.

They certainly are pulling up some big coaffish at the Cholera Banks now, fish ranging from fifteen to forty pounds, many running about eighteen or twenty pounds each. Splendid angling was done on the heat.

Alert last week, especially Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, or Sunday over the past, of which there was abundance on the beat.

The fish must be as thick as fleas on a dog's back, for the writer got seven, and I had an almighty time lugging them home, in fact, to make a clean breast of it, the bundle busted at one stare of the yame, much to the edification of the onlookers, who proferred all sorts of advice, which was duly ignored.

"The past week has been a wonderful week for cod at the Cholera grounds, and every trip we made was meet productive. Thursday was the banner day, when 275 cod were hauled aboard the Commodore. They were fish ranging from four to thirty-five pounds, with a good percentage of fish weighing ten, twelve and fifeen pounds each. The season is now at its height and cod will be plentfully caught whenever the weather will permit of going after them."

Charite Day says they are using scallon balt these days, and that the cod take it like hot cakes, it is firmer and stays on the hook better than akinumers and is less liable to castruction by the bergalls.

On Sunday all the boats ran with capacity leads, and there were really too many aboard the boats for comfortable fishing. The storm came along and interforce with the fishing, and the Sunday catches did not measure up with those of earlier in the week. However, some good sized flah were taken and a fair quantity of them.

Ever Hear of the Fishing Frog?

The angling fish, or fishing frog, or a devil, shows perhaps more skill than at other fish in obtaining his food, says it year book of the Cecan City Fishing Club. Is an unity creature, with a frightful mound raspilla teeth, and as it obtains a length in some waters of five feet, it is a terre amalior fish. But it moves very slow and has to resort to trickery. It wait along the bottom of the sea on its two broffing. With these it stirs up the sand as much so as to hide likelf and draw the oth fishes near.

If this fails, the angler lies buried with long tentacle sticking up from the head, will a sort of fringe at the end. This the anglis also to agitate, and the fish, thinking the selected themselves by the angler.
